SEVENTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

STATE HISTORIAN AND DIRECTOR OF THE DEPARTMENT OF ARCHIVES AND HISTORY FOR THE STATE OF GEORGIA

TO THE STATE HISTORICAL COMMISSION,

HON. CLIFFORD WALKER,

Ex-Officio Chairman:

The outstanding event—from the news standpoint—in the Department of Archives and History during the past twelve months was the finding of the Button Gwinnett signature. This autograph, which sells for many times the price paid for the signature of Washington or indeed of any other official of either Colonial or National days, is contained in a seven-hundred page MS. volume which originated in the Auditor's office, and which covers the period 1758-1772. The book contains the signatures of nine of the early Constitutional governors and dozens of other persons of state-wide importance, and has a commercial value of many thousands of dollars.

Another signature of Gwinnett's—attached to a public document of Georgia and taken from the Capitol about fifteen years ago it is thought—is expected to be recovered for the State through the efforts of the Attorney General, Col. Napier. This paper—the original will of Joseph Stanley of Savannah—was witnessed by Gwinnett in 1770 and belongs in this Department with the other wills of the Colonial period. The document, having changed hands once or twice subsequent to removal from the Capitol, was sold at auction in New York in the early part of this year, bringing $22,500. Sale and sale price were featured by the press of the entire country and the character of the paper was in this fashion brought to the attention of the State Historian. Details of the case were placed in the hands of the Attorney General, who at once started proceedings to recover the paper. Though the historical and commercial value of these two documents is high, their greatest worth to Georgians will probably be in the interest that has been aroused in and for records of all kinds.

The major item of work in the period covered was the publication of all tax digests found in the Capitol prior to 1820. These records, coming to the Department from the office of the Hon. Wm. A. Wright in the late fall, were in many cases so brittle from age that even the most careful handling was injurious, and for that reason immediate publication was decided upon. The lists, to a certain extent, take the place of the census reports for Georgia for the decades 1790, 1800 and 1810, which were destroyed when Washington was burned by the British in 1814. Ten counties are preserved and the book contains three hundred and sixteen pages. The cost of publication amounted to $1400 and was cared for from the 1925 maintenance appropriation for this Department.

Another bit of work, which though requiring only a few days' time, is mentioned because of the general interest aroused, was the collecting, collating and photographing of the signatures of the Governors since 1754. This composite photograph, produced at a cost of $101, has caught the attention of historian, the teacher, the pupil, and of course, in almost every case, of the descendants of the various men. All originals, with the exception of that of Provisional Governor, James Johnson, are found in this Department.

During the twelve months covered by this report three hundred and ninety additional MS. volumes were placed in the custody of the State Historian. Of these, two hundred and thirty-eight were tax digests for the period 1792-1870, received from the Comptroller-General; three volumes of property transfers 1769-1805, one hundred and twenty volumes of the registration lists of the Reconstruction period and two volumes of land schedules for the Colonial period, from the Secretary of State; and twenty volumes of recent records from the Executive Department. Three valuable maps—one for each of the islands, St. Catherines, Ossabaw and Sapelo, each bearing date of 1760, were located in the basement.

Most valuable material in the form of transcripts and abstracts of county records were presented the Department by Mr. J. A. LeConte of this city, Mrs. W. S. Wilson of Savannah and Miss Eulalie Edwards of Elberton. Included in this lot were abstracts of the early wills of Baldwin, Clarke, Elbert, Floyd and Jackson counties, and the early marriage records for these counties and also for Hall, Lumpkin and Polk counties. The value of this work is realized when the burning of the Wilkinson County Court House is recalled. A few days before the fire a carbon copy of all marriage records of the county was left in this office by Mr. Victor Davidson, Ex-County School Superintendent, who had given many months to the compilation of a most comprehensive history of the county. It was intended that the book should carry abstracts of all the wills probated in the county, the marriage records, land grants, rosters of the men in the various wars, etc., in addition to the material usually found in a county history. Because of the value attached to his work Mr. Davidson had been given an office in the Court House and his MS, practically ready for the printer, was lost at the same time many of the original documents, including all marriage records, were destroyed.

The acquisition of these county records, from year to year, is a source of much gratification, particularly as there has at no time been any cost to the State in that connection. The three donors are persons with a fine sense of the value of historical materials and in each case the first gift came unsolicited.

Since January 1st the sum of $350.00 has been spent on the binding of books, many of them long in need of attention, and several hundred more dollars will be used in this manner before the close of the year. In addition to this $75.00 has been spent for containers for loose documents. Such expenditures as these should, in a Department of this kind, be considered as much a part of the routine as the buying of postage and paper, but because so little has been done along these lines in the years past, this special mention is made at this time.

The work of the forthcoming year will include the continued cataloging of loose documents and the compilation and publication of the 1927 edition of Georgia's Official Register.

Respectfully submitted,

RUTH BLAIR,

State Historian.

Atlanta, Ga., July 1, 1926.

EIGHTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

STATE HISTORIAN AND DIRECTOR OF THE DEPARTMENT
OF ARCHIVES AND HISTORY FOR THE STATE OF GEORGIA.

TO THE STATE HISTORICAL COMMISSION,

HON. CLIFFORD WALKER,

Ex-Officio Chairman:

The work of the Department during the past twelve months, judged from the standpoints of quality, quantity and ease of accomplishment, was the most satisfactory of any similar period since the creation of the office of State Historian. This is readily understandable, being due (1) to the greater experience—that is, greater familiarity with the records and the history of the State—on the part of the office force and (2) to the general catalog of some 70,000 items and the various rosters, lists and publications that are the products of the last eight-and-a-half years and that furnish an invaluable frame-work for the general activities of the Department.

The compilation and publication of the 1927 edition of Georgia's Official and Statistical Register was the largest single item of work, consuming several months. This volume in certain particulars is an enlargement over the 1925 edition. Biographical sketches of the solicitors of the various courts, the Federal officers in the State, and the heads of the State Institutions appear for the first time; a Federal chapter has been added and the record of all territorial transfers in the State not classified by the Code under "lines changed" has been given. The historical chapter consists of a roster of the Executive Council and Senate, 1777-1927, arranged chronologically by county or district as the representation proved to be. A map of the State showing counties and senatorial and congressional districts and colored pictures of the state flag and the state flower—the Cherokee rose—are included for the first time.

Georgia Women of 1926, a thirty-three page pamphlet, was the only other publication of the year. This booklet contains brief biographical sketches of one hundred and thirty-three Georgia women, whose work brought them before the public in the biennium, 1925-1926. State and county officials, presidents and national officers of the several women's organizations, principals of the accredited high schools, editors, authors, and various business and professional women are included. The cost of publication in this connection was cared for from the annual appropriation for the Department.

One of the most gratifying incidents of the year was the restoration to the State's collection of several hundred valuable MS. records that had been for many years in private possession. These papers touch many phases of the State's history, 1760-1860, but the outstanding items are the original journals of several state conventions. Among these are the journal of the convention of 1787 ratifying the Federal Constitution; of the journals of the constitutional conventions of January and May 1789; and of the convention of 1833 called to consider the representation in the General Assembly. With one exception these journals have not been printed and so far as is known no other MS. copies exist. The original drafts of the constitution written by the conventions of 1788 and January 1789 and submitted to the freemen of the State for consideration were also found in the lot. The signatures of the delegates attached to these papers make interesting reading and are a valuable addition to Georgia's already noteworthy collection of autographs. Other papers of the collection were the resignations of some three hundred and fifty public officials between 1760 and 1860; a petition from Joseph Maddock and Jonathan Sell, Quakers from North Carolina, giving the names of fifty-eight families of that faith who settled at Wrightsborough in 1769; the inventories of various Colonial estates including those of Button Gwinnett and George Whitefield; many letters of a more or less public nature; commissions; acceptances of offices, etc., etc.

Three other papers, letters of Isaac Briggs, secretary of the Convention ratifying the Federal Constitution and inventor with William Longstreet of the steam engine patented by the Georgia legislature in February 1788, were additions of the year. These letters, addressed to friends, are of a more or less gossipy nature and throw a light on the times not to be obtained from more formal documents. Mrs. Nathaniel Greene, the wife of the General, is the subject of one of the letters and eight pages are devoted to a delineation of her charm and character.

Several hundred letters relating to the records of Georgians in the Mexican and Spanish-American wars were received from Judge Robert L. Rodgers of Beaumont, Texas, who before his removal from this State handled pension claims for a large number of soldiers of these wars, or for their descendants. Since no roster of Georgians in either of these conflicts exists and since there are records for comparatively few of the soldiers in the State, the significance of the gift is readily perceived.

Among the books and pamphlets received from State officials during the twelve months were the following:

from the Secretary of State,

Record of the Fortunate Drawers in the Lottery of 1827

Commission Book, 1828-1862 (showing State and Federal officers commissioned by the Governors during that period);

from the Executive Department,

Executive Minutes 1913-15, 1915-17

Oaths of State Officers 1913-21

County Officers 1916-24

Notaries Public 1906-19

Justices of the Peace 1917-24

State Depositories 1900-13, 1912-15

Requisitions 1902-21

Rewards 1913-22

Paroles 1915-19, 1920-21, 1921-23

Commutations 1915-17, 1917-22, 1922-23

Pardon Docket 1915-21

Pardons Granted 1922-23

Probation Orders 1918-21, 1921-23;

from the State Auditor,

Audit of the State Department of Pensions for the years 1924, 1925, 1926

This last mentioned volume is a roster of all Confederate pensioners in the State during the years covered. It is also a roster of practically every living Confederate veteran in the State—since by law all soldiers of the Confederacy are eligible for pension—and of the widows of Confederate soldiers. The arrangement of the record is by county and in addition to the names of pensioners, post office addresses, dates of death of all dying during the three years, records of removal from the State, of admission to the Confederate Soldiers' Home and of the re-marriage of widows, are given. The value of the record from the historical standpoint is such that its future publication is a necessity if the facts of Georgia history are to be made generally available.

Of great value and interest to all descendants of Georgians with Revolutionary service was the placing in this Department of the lineage records of the members of twenty-six Georgia chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution. These records comprising the lineage of some 3,000 members and the service of approximately 2,300 soldiers have been copied on individual cards and filed in our general catalog under the name of the patriot, thus preserving the data alphabetically by soldiers and chronologically by chapters. The good that will result from this altruistic piece of work and the time and effort that will be saved the force of this Department is difficult to estimate. The chapters included are Albany (Commodore Richard Dale Chapter), Americus, Athens, Atlanta (Atlanta Chapter), Bainbridge, Brunswick, Clarkston and Decatur, Columbus (George Walton chapter), Conyers, Covington, Cuthbert, Dublin, Forsyth, Fort Valley (Fort Valley Chapter), LaFayette, Madison, Marietta, Sandersville, Savannah (Bonaventure and Lachlan McIntosh Chapters), Shellman, Sparta, Tennille, Toccoa, West Point, and Winder.

A number of family histories in manuscript were received during the year and several articles of general interest were added to the museum collection. Among the latter was the pen used by President Wilson in signing the Smith-Hughes Act, which was presented at the request of the late Mr. Dudley M. Hughes by Mr. Paul W. Chapman, director of vocational education in the State.

Some 10,000 cards showing early marriages of the State and abstracts of wills from certain of the counties were made for the general catalog during the year. Two cards for each marriage are given and the arrangement in the catalog of both marriages and wills is alphabetically by name.

On the 11th instant Justice Ellis J. Staley of the New York Supreme Court announced his decision on the Button Gwinnett will case. This decision, based on an interpretation of the Colonial laws, was adverse to the State of Georgia. Because of the interest aroused in the State through the publicity received in connection with the case the State Historian feels that the effort made to recover the document was well worth while.

An audit of the Department for the years 1924, 1925, 1926 made by the State Auditor in April last reported as follows: "The books are accurate and all monies are accounted for, either by cash in bank or by properly receipted vouchers."

Respectfully submitted,

RUTH BLAIR,

State Historian.

Atlanta, Ga., June 16, 1927.

CHAPTER X

HISTORICAL

STATE FLAG

The flag of the State of Georgia was not provided for by legislative action until 1879 when "an Act to declare and establish the flag of the State of Georgia" passed both Houses and was approved by the Governor on October 17th. The description of the flag as given in that Act is as follows: "The flag of the State of Georgia shall be a vertical band of blue next the staff and occupying one-third of the entire flag; the remainder of the space shall be divided into three horizontal bands, the upper and lower of which said bands shall be scarlet in color and the middle band white". The coat-of-arms of the State was added to the flag in 1905 when the Legislature passed an Act "to reorganize the military forces of the State, to adopt and make of force a military code," etc. The provisions for the flag as found in this law and re-enacted in 1916 in "the Act to reorganize the military forces of the State, to conform the organization and discipline to the requirements of the United States", etc., are as follows: "the flag of the State of Georgia shall be a vertical band of blue next to the flagstaff, and occupying one-third of the entire flag; the remainder of the space shall be equally divided into three horizontal bands, the upper and lower of which shall be scarlet in color, and the middle band white. On the blue field shall be stamped, painted or embroidered the coat-of-arms of the State". The act of 1879 originated in the Senate, the bill being introduced by Col. Herman J. H. Perry, a prominent lawyer and Confederate veteran of Waynesboro.

STATE FLOWER

The Cherokee Rose which grows luxuriantly in all sections of the State was adopted as Georgia's State Flower by the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs and confirmed by the State Legislature in 1916. Originally thought to be indigenous to Southern soil it is now the opinion of the National Department of Agriculture that the rose was introduced into the State perhaps directly from China or from China by way of England. One well-known horticulturist agreeing with this view gives the year 1757 as the date of its introduction into England and advances the belief that it reached the United States shortly afterwards. The name, Cherokee Rose, is a local appellation derived from the Cherokee Indians who widely distributed the plant, which elsewhere is known by the botanical name of rosa sinica. Growing wild the rose is a high climbing shrub, frequently attaining the proportions of a vine, is excessively thorny and generously supplied with leaves of a vivid green. Its blooming time is in the early spring but favorable conditions will produce a second flowering in the fall of the year. In color the rose is a waxy white with large golden center and the petals are of an exquisite velvety texture. Because of its hardy nature the plant is well adapted to hedge purposes and has been used extensively in this fashion throughout the South. The action of the General Assembly in naming this the floral emblem of the State is contained in the following resolution:

GEORGIA'S STATE FLOWER—THE CHEROKEE ROSE

Whereas, in many of the States of the Union some flower indigenous to the soil of the State has been chosen as an emblem of its sovereignty; and

Whereas, Hitherto the General Assembly of Georgia has made no such selection; and

Whereas, the Cherokee Rose, having its origin among the aborigines of the northern portion of the State of Georgia, is indigenous to its soil, and grows with equal luxuriance in every county of the State,

Be it therefore by the House of Representatives of Georgia, the Senate concurring, resolved, That, at the suggestion and request of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, the Cherokee Rose be and the same is hereby adopted as and declared to be the floral emblem of the State of Georgia.

STATE SONG

By an Act of the General Assembly of 1922 the following poem written by Robert Loveman and set to music by Mrs. Lollie Belle Wylie was adopted as the official song of Georgia:

From the mountains to the sea,
Where her rivers roll,
There I ever long to be,
O, my heart; my soul;
By her meadows let me lie,
In her vales remain,
Underneath her roof-tree sky
Watch the shadows wane.

Georgia—land of our delight,
Haven of the blest,
Here by happy day and night,
Peace enthrones the breast.
Georgia, Georgia, dearest earth
Underneath the blue,
Clime that ever giveth birth
To the brave and true.

GEORGIA DAY

The celebration of February 12th, the day on which Oglethorpe and his colonists landed in Georgia, as Georgia Day, was suggested by Miss Frances L. Mitchell of Athens, Ga., in her history, Georgia Land and People. The first concerted effort to bring about an annual observance of the day was made by the Joseph Habersham Chapter, D. A. R., of Atlanta, in 1901, and with the co-operation of the State School Commissioner, soon resulted in its observance in many schools. Credit for these first efforts is due Miss Nina Hornady, Georgia Day chairman of the chapter, and to the late Mrs. William Lawson Peel, then regent. Mrs. John M. Graham, Mrs. Peel's successor in office and chairman of a committee of the State Conference of the D. A. R. on the subject, attempted by procuring the introduction of bills in 1904 and at subsequent sessions of the General Assembly to secure legislative action on the subject, but it was not until 1909 when, on her request, Hon. John M. Slaton, President of the Senate, introduced a bill drawn by John M. Graham naming the day and providing for appropriate exercises in the public schools of the State, that legislative recognition was obtained. This bill, signed by Gov. Joseph M. Brown, Aug. 13, 1909, reads as follows:

"Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Georgia, That the twelfth day of February in each year shall be observed in the public schools of this State, under the name of "Georgia Day", as the anniversary of the landing of the first colonists in Georgia under Oglethorpe; and it shall be the duty of the State School Commissioner, through the County School Commissioners, annually to cause the teachers of the schools under their supervision to conduct on that day exercises in which the pupils shall take part, consisting of written compositions, readings, recitations, addresses, or other exercises, relating to this State and its history and to the lives of distinguished Georgians. When said day falls on Sunday, it shall be observed on the following Monday." (Georgia Laws 1909, p. 190.)
Note: Credit for certain of above statements to D. A. R. publications.

VALOR DAY

Valor Day was named in the following resolution introduced June 25, 1925, by Hon. Carl N. Guess, Senator from the 34th District, and approved by Governor Clifford Walker August 11, 1925:

"Whereas, on the 17th day of March, 1924, the Congress of the United States did by unanimous vote and with the approval of the President, authorize the issue by the Treasury of 5,000,000 silver coins of the fifty cents denomination to commemorate the valor of the soldiers of the South which was the inspiration of their sons and daughters and grandsons and granddaughters in the War with Spain and the World War; and,

Whereas, by provision of the Act creating said Memorial coins they were given over to the exclusive control of the Stone Mountain Confederate Monumental Association, whose sole mission is the carving on Stone Mountain in this State a monument to the armies and navy of the late Southern Confederacy, with authority to dispose of said coins in such manner as might seem best; and,

Whereas, on the 21st day of January, 1925, the first of these coins was struck in the United States mint and was, on the 15th day of May, 1925, graciously received by the Honorable Calvin Coolidge, President of the United States, from said Association in the spirit in which it was offered; and,

Whereas, this Memorial Coin bears on one side representations of the figures of the South's beloved leaders, Robert Edward Lee and "Stonewall" Jackson, and on the other the legend, "Memorial to the Valor of the Soldier of the South"; and,

Whereas, we recognize in this Act of Congress approved by the President a magnanimous and generous tribute to the purity of the motive which animated the soldiers and sailors of the Southern Confederacy, a tender regard for the South's memories of them, and a patriotic desire to bring all sections of our country into a harmonious union;

Therefore be it resolved, by the Senate of the State of Georgia, the House concurring, that the earnest thanks of the State of Georgia be tendered to the President and Congress of the United States, and that January 21st, the day on which the first of said coins was minted, which was the anniversary of the birth of "Stonewall" Jackson, be hereby designated as "Valor Day" in the State of Georgia, its symbol and decoration to be a Confederate Memorial Coin worn upon the left breast.

Be it further resolved, that copies of this resolution be furnished to the President and to Congress through the Senators from this State." (Acts 1925, pp. 1603-04.)

ROSTER OF THE EXECUTIVE COUNCIL AND SENATE

1777-1927

The Constitution of 1777 provided for a legislative department consisting of a House of Assembly and an Executive Council. Each county with ten members in the House of Assembly was entitled to representation in the Council, i. e., to two councillors elected from the membership of the House of Assembly. In case of retirement or death of a councillor, his successor was selected from the remaining representatives of his county in the House.

The Constitution of 1789 provided a Senate and House of Representatives, both to be elected by the people. Senators were elected triennially for three-year terms, 1789-1795. An amendment to the Constitution adopted in May 1795 provided for one-year terms and annual elections of senators. Biennial elections were provided for in legislative act assented to 5th day of December 1843.

SENATORIAL DISTRICTS

Since 1861

In 1859, the State Senate contained 132 members, a number which made it almost as large a body as the House of Representatives. Governor Brown, in his annual message to the Legislature dated Nov. 3, 1859, recommended a reduction of membership. Said he:

"It is amost impossible for so large a body to maintain that calm and dignified decorum and to act with that coolness, deliberation and caution, which are indispensable to the proper discharge of the high functions of a wise and grave Senate, which, when properly organized, is justly looked to as one of the strongest bulwarks of liberty in a Republican Government." Governor Brown recommended only 33 Senatorial Districts. However, it was deemed best to create 44, with three counties to each District. The Constitution of 1877 gave the General Assembly power to change these Districts after each census, provided neither the number of Districts nor the number of Senators from each District should be increased. A constitutional amendment, approved in 1918, added 7 new districts bringing the total to 51 which is the number at present.
